Press Release

Allconnect Announces Cinergy Partnership

ATLANTA, June 8, 2005 – Allconnect, Inc., the leading provider of home relocation services, has announced its partnership with Cinergy electric and gas utility company. Cinergy serves approximately 2 million customers in Indiana, Ohio and Northern Kentucky and estimates nearly 190,000 of its customers relocate each year requiring necessary support to help connect new residential services.

“This partnership helps us respond to an important customer need even faster and with enhanced accuracy,” said Michael Goldenberg, Manager, Customer Products and Services, Cinergy. “Our partnership with Allconnect enables our customers to make just one call to connect all their household services quickly -- and hopefully relieve some stress from their relocation activities.”

Every year over 20 million households move and spend approximately $170 billion as they assimilate into their homes and new communities. Utilities are often the first call that consumers make during a residential relocation.

“Cinergy provides an enormous service to its community by helping to get the customer re-connected during a relocation,” said Mark Miller, Allconnect Chairman and CEO. “We’re pleased to partner with Cinergy to help customers select, order and manage essential household services in just one call, thereby providing the ultimate customer service.”
