Allconnect Partnership with Harry Norman, Realtors Strengthens Customer Service

ATLANTA, March 17, 2010 – Allconnect has announced a partnership with Harry Norman, Realtors that allows their 1,300 real estate professionals to provide buyers with a summary of home service providers customized for their new home address.

Atlanta-based Allconnect, the leading comparison shopping and connections marketplace for essential home services, recently introduced an online portal that allows real estate partners to enhance their customer service. Harry Norman, Realtors was one of the first companies to tap into this technology through their partnership with Allconnect.

By accessing Allconnect's ConnectMyBuyer.com, Harry Norman's agents can input a client's address and create an individualized email or flyer that lists contact information for water, waste, gas, and electric services. It also includes a summary of the television, Internet, and phone service plans available for the specific location. New home buyers can compare providers, plans, and rates, with no obligation to purchase.

"Allconnect is continually exploring ways to improve the customer experience," said Mark Miller, Allconnect CEO. "We've exhaustively mapped service availability at over 110 million residences across the U.S. This comprehensive database and our easy to use front-end technology make it easy for realtors to exceed the expectations of their clients."

"We are delighted about our new partnership with Allconnect and look forward to offering this wonderfully convenient service to our sales associates and their clients," added Martha Hayhurst, President of Harry Norman, Realtors.
