Allconnect Named One of Atlanta's Top 50
Fastest-Growing Private Companies

ATLANTA, April 27, 2010 – Allconnect has been named one of Atlanta's Top 50 fastest-growing private companies. The company received a Pacesetter Award from the Atlanta Business Chronicle at their annual recognition event on April 23, 2010.

Allconnect is the leading provider for connecting consumers with household services including satellite TV, cable TV, Internet, phone, home security systems, and natural gas and electric utilities.

To qualify for the Pacesetters list, a company must have experienced a two-year growth in sales of more than 50% and have 2009 revenues between $1 million and $300 million. The company must also be privately held, based in the 20-county metro Atlanta area and not a subsidiary of another company, and be in existence since 2007.

"It's an honor to be recognized," said Allconnect CEO Mark Miller. "Staying focused on execution today while concurrently planning for tomorrow is a challenge for any business. This is especially true at Allconnect, where our mission is to help consumers make informed choices by demystifying constantly changing communications and media technologies. We are truly a business that thrives on change."

Glenn Goad, Chief Strategy Officer notes that Allconnect's dynamic marketplace, which brings together consumers and home service providers, has not existed in the past and, as a result, the company has grown quickly. "The Allconnect model allows consumers to effectively evaluate their options and our service provider partners to increase market share; it's a win-win for both parties."

As for the future, Gene Ellis, Chief Financial Officer, said that not only has Allconnect experienced more than 50% growth from 2007 to 2009, but they are also on track to exceed their goals for 2010.
