Allconnect Service Provides Free, No-Obligation Moving Quotes

ATLANTA, May 12, 2010 – In its ongoing mission of making moving easier, Allconnect partnered with Relocation.com to provide consumers with free, no-obligation moving quotes as part of the online resource that Allconnect provides to compare home service plans at a specific address.

Filling out the Moving Quote Request form provides you with a list of moving companies who are all fully licensed, bonded, and insured, and available at your address. The moving companies provide pricing quotes and explain services that will assist you in making a decision when choosing a mover.

"As our tagline says, we want to give customers One less thing to worry about," said Scott Klinger, EVP - Marketing and eCommerce. "We've always been committed to supporting our customers during a move by simplifying the process to transfer home services. This service for moving quotes is yet another example of a free, one-stop resource that will save time and money during a move."
