Allconnect Introduces Mom Blog Advisory Group Member Jessica Jones of Atlanta Mother's Guide

ATLANTA, July 20, 2010 – Allconnect recently had the privilege of connecting with some amazing mom bloggers by forming a Mom Advisory Group. This group offers feedback on services and new initiatives - including product launches and new functionality. In addition, the bloggers have been asked to spread the good news about Allconnect.

Allconnect introduces this group of amazing and busy women in the next two weeks by posting profiles on the Allconnect Home Services Blog. The blog posts are followed by live Twitter interviews on @allconnect, using the hashtag #allconnect.

Today, Allconnect introduces Jessica Jones, author of Atlanta Mother's Guide and will interview her at 8 pm (EST) on Tuesday, July 20.

Jessica recently quit her 9 – 5 job to stay home with her three children. But Jessica doesn't just "stay at home." She loves to try new places around town and make memories with her kids. In her spare time, she teaches piano lessons and is a freelance writer.

Jessica began her blogging career as a blog reader. After see what others were doing, she decided to try her hand and created Atlanta Mother's Guide (to Fun, Fellowship, and Sanity). Originally it was going to be a blog about things to do in Atlanta, but the description has expanded beyond Atlanta events to things Jessica loves, like her children, family, crafting, music, and much more. Her posts talk about fun things to do with kids (inside and outside the home) and also promote conversations and communication among parents. The goal: help parents keep their sanity (and humor).

If Jessica could have “One less thing to worry about,” this deal finding mom wants to know immediately if she’s getting the best price possible. A service that could help her figure out, in a few easy steps, if she’s saving money would be a life (and sanity) saver.
